

NORTH AMERICA NOW 2017 FORUM SERIES What's Next?

Join us for an interactive and candid discussion to advance the critically important relationship among the U.S., Mexico and Canada

As a border state, Arizona needs to be a leader in ensuring that private and public sector actors understand current trends and challenges in the trilateral relationship. The forum will convene strategic partners, stakeholders, community leaders and elected officials for an interactive dialogue on how to elevate and support trade in our region.
